SUMMARY OF REQUEST

The applicant requests a Conditional Use Permit for an Accessory Apartment in an R-2 Zoning District as required per Hoschton Zoning Ordinance Table 4.1 "Permitted and Condition Uses for Residential and Agricultural Zoning Districts". Additionally, the applicant requests a variance of Hoschton Zoning Ordinance Section 6.05 "Accessory Apartment" requirements 2, 3, and 5.

- Requirement 2 prohibits accessory apartments on the same lot as a home occupation permit
- Requirement 3 requires detached accessory apartments to be 20 feet from any property line.
- Requirement 5 requires accessory apartments be at least 680 square feet of heated floor area, with 340 square feet of heated floor area per adult occupant.

CONDITIONAL USE CRITERIA:

Per Section 8.04 of the Hoschton Zoning Ordinance, One or more of the following criteria may be considered applicable or potentially applicable to decisions on conditional use permit applications. The applicant is urged to substantiate the request by responding to these criteria which provide reasons for approving the application:

a) Whether the proposal will permit a use that is suitable in view of the use and development of adjacent and nearby property.

Finding: An accessory apartment on the property is compatible with the existing neighborhood. The appearance of the neighborhood will not be altered because the structure the applicant plans to use is existing. (Supports request)

b) Whether the proposal will adversely affect the existing use or usability of adjacent or nearby property

Finding: No, an accessory apartment will not adversely affect the property or surrounding properties. The proposed apartment will not change the look of the area since an existing structure will be used. Additionally, multiple neighbors wrote letters of support for the applicant. (Supports request)

c) Whether the property to be affected by the proposal has a reasonable economic use as currently zoned

Finding: The property does have a reasonable economic use without the conditional use permit. (Does not support request)

d) Whether the proposal will result in a use which will or could cause an excessive or burdensome use of existing streets, transportation facilities, utilities, or schools.

Finding: The addition of a single occupancy accessory apartment will have no more impact on infrastructure than moving an older relative into a spare bedroom which does not and should not require permission. (Supports request)

e) Whether the proposal is in conformity with the policy and intent of the comprehensive plan including the character area map and/or future land use plan map

Finding: The future land use map labels the property as moderate density residential; an accessory apartment conforms to this description. Additionally, the Comprehensive Plan states "The city need to ensure that an adequate supply of housing will be available in order to attract and retain young professionals and retired individuals for whom ownership is either not feasible or not desirable" including "accessory units". (Support request)

f) Whether there are other existing or changing conditions affecting the use and development of the property which give supporting grounds for either approval or disapproval of the proposal.

Finding: The significant support of the applicant's neighbors constitutes grounds for approval. Additionally, the applicant expressed concerns with adding on to the existing structure due to the home's historic character. (Supports request)

g) Whether the proposal would have an impact on the environment, including but not limited to, drainage, soil erosion and sedimentation, flooding, air quality and water quality

Finding: The proposal would not have impacts on the environment. (Support Request)

VARIANCE CRITERIA :

Per Section 8.05 of the Hoschton Zoning Ordinance, One or more of the following criteria may be considered applicable or potentially applicable to decisions on variances. The applicant is urged to substantiate the request by responding to these criteria which provide reasons for approving the application:

a) There are extraordinary and exceptional conditions or practical difficulties pertaining to the particular piece of property in question because of its size, shape or topography that are not applicable to other lands or structures in the same district

Finding: The physical conditions of the property do not prohibit the construction of an accessory apartment in other locations on the property. (Does not support request). Since a structure that can be used is existing, allowing the variance would allow the use without changing the visual character of the neighborhood. (Supports request)

b) A literal interpretation of the provisions of this ordinance would effectively deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed by other properties of the district in which the property is located.

Finding: A literal interpretation of the required heated floor area and setback requirements does not deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed. (Does not support request). The prohibition of accessory apartments and home occupations on the same property may. The ordinance treats all home occupancies the same. The applicant's business, based on letters from neighbors does not generate any additional traffic to the property. (Supports request)

(c) Granting the variance requested will not confer upon the property of the applicant any special privileges that are denied to other properties of the district in which the applicant's property is located.

Finding: Variances are not a special privilege; anyone may apply for one. It simply allows the council to determine if a proposed use fits the intent of the ordinance without specifically meeting the requirements. (Supports request)

(d) The requested variance will be in harmony with the purpose and intent of this ordinance and will not be injurious to the neighborhood or to the general welfare.

Finding: The ordinance is written with the construction of ordinances in mind. Since the structure is existing, flexibility with specific requirements is reasonable. The proposed apartment would not meet the minimum size requirements, but does meet the minimum heated square footage per adult applicant. Therefore, the apartment should be limited to single occupancy. (Supports request)

(e) The special circumstances are not the result of the actions of the applicant.

Finding: The fact the existing structure does not meet size or setback requirements is not a result of the applicant's actions. (Supports request)

(f) The variance requested is the minimum variance that will make possible the proposed use of the land, building, or structure in the zoning district in which the development is located.

Finding: This is the minimum variance possible that does not require the applicant to move their business, expand the structure, or move the structure. (Supports request)

CONCLUSION: The planner recommends approval of the conditional use permit. The planner recommends approval of the variance with one condition.

- 1) The accessory apartment shall be limited to single occupancy

A small accessory apartment on the applicant's property provides his father with a place to live privately while staying close to his family. The use of the existing barn maintains the character of neighborhood. The applicant has significant support from his neighbors including the one most affected by the setback variance. The proposal does not conflict with the comprehensive plan or strain existing infrastructure.

CONDITIONAL USE DECISION CRITERIA

Per Section 8.04 of the Hoschton Zoning Ordinance, the following criteria are applicable to decisions on conditional uses. The applicant is urged but not required to substantiate the request by responding to these criteria which provide reasons for approving the application:

- (a) Whether the proposal will permit a use that is suitable in view of the use and development of adjacent and nearby property.

Response:

It is suitable as a single-occupancy residence of my 80-year-old father. The structure's appearance will not be significantly altered, and will maintain a similar design as the primary residence.

- (b) Whether the proposal will adversely affect the existing use or usability of adjacent or nearby property.

Response:

The accessory apartment will in no way adversely affect use or usability of adjacent or nearby properties.

- (c) Whether the property to be affected by the proposal has a reasonable economic use as currently zoned.

Response:

The property does have a reasonable economic use.

- (d) Whether the proposal will result in a use which will or could cause an excessive or burdensome use of existing streets, transportation facilities, utilities, or schools.

Response:

The proposal will add a single vehicle and a single occupant with no children.

- (e) Whether the proposal is in conformity with the policy and intent of the comprehensive plan including the character area map and/or future land use plan map.

Response:

Since the proposal only seeks to improve an existing structure for a single occupant, then it conforms with the policy & intent of the comprehensive plan.

- (f) Whether there are other existing or changing conditions affecting the use and development of the property which give supporting grounds for either approval or disapproval of the proposal.

Response:

The primary residence does not have space for an additional occupant and adding on to the existing primary residence would negatively affect it's historical character, as it is one of the few remaining original homes of Hoschton.

- (g) Whether the proposal would create an isolated zoning district unrelated to adjacent and nearby districts.

Response:

The proposal would not create an isolated zoning district.

- (h) Whether the proposal would have an impact on the environment, including but not limited to, drainage, soil erosion and sedimentation, flooding, air quality and water quality.

Response:

The proposal would not impact the environment as the structure is already existing. The new occupant of the apartment would not affect these concerns either.

RE: Conditional Use application Letter of Intent

To whom it may concern:

This is a letter of intent for a conditional use application for a large outbuilding located at the above address to be converted to an accessory apartment (Section 6.05). The apartment is to provide permanent housing for my father to age-in-place, maintain his independence and be in close proximity to his family. The future accessory apartment, in its entirety, is an existing structure. The footprint of the structure is not being altered. The exterior will be substantially similar to both its current appearance and the appearance of the primary residence on the property. The entrance and parking will be moved to the side and windows will be added, but apart from that, the exterior appearance will only be improved with new material.

The sole purpose of this conditional use is for occupancy of this building. We have no room in the primary residence for an additional occupant, nor would such an arrangement be ideal for him. The building will provide a safe and comfortable home for my father. Approval of this project will not only benefit him, but will improve the appearance of the building, surrounding landscape and by extension, adjacent properties and the neighborhood, as the current structure is a focal point for those driving down East Broad Street toward New Street. We strongly desire the committee's and the council's consideration and approval of this conditional use and we thank you in advance.

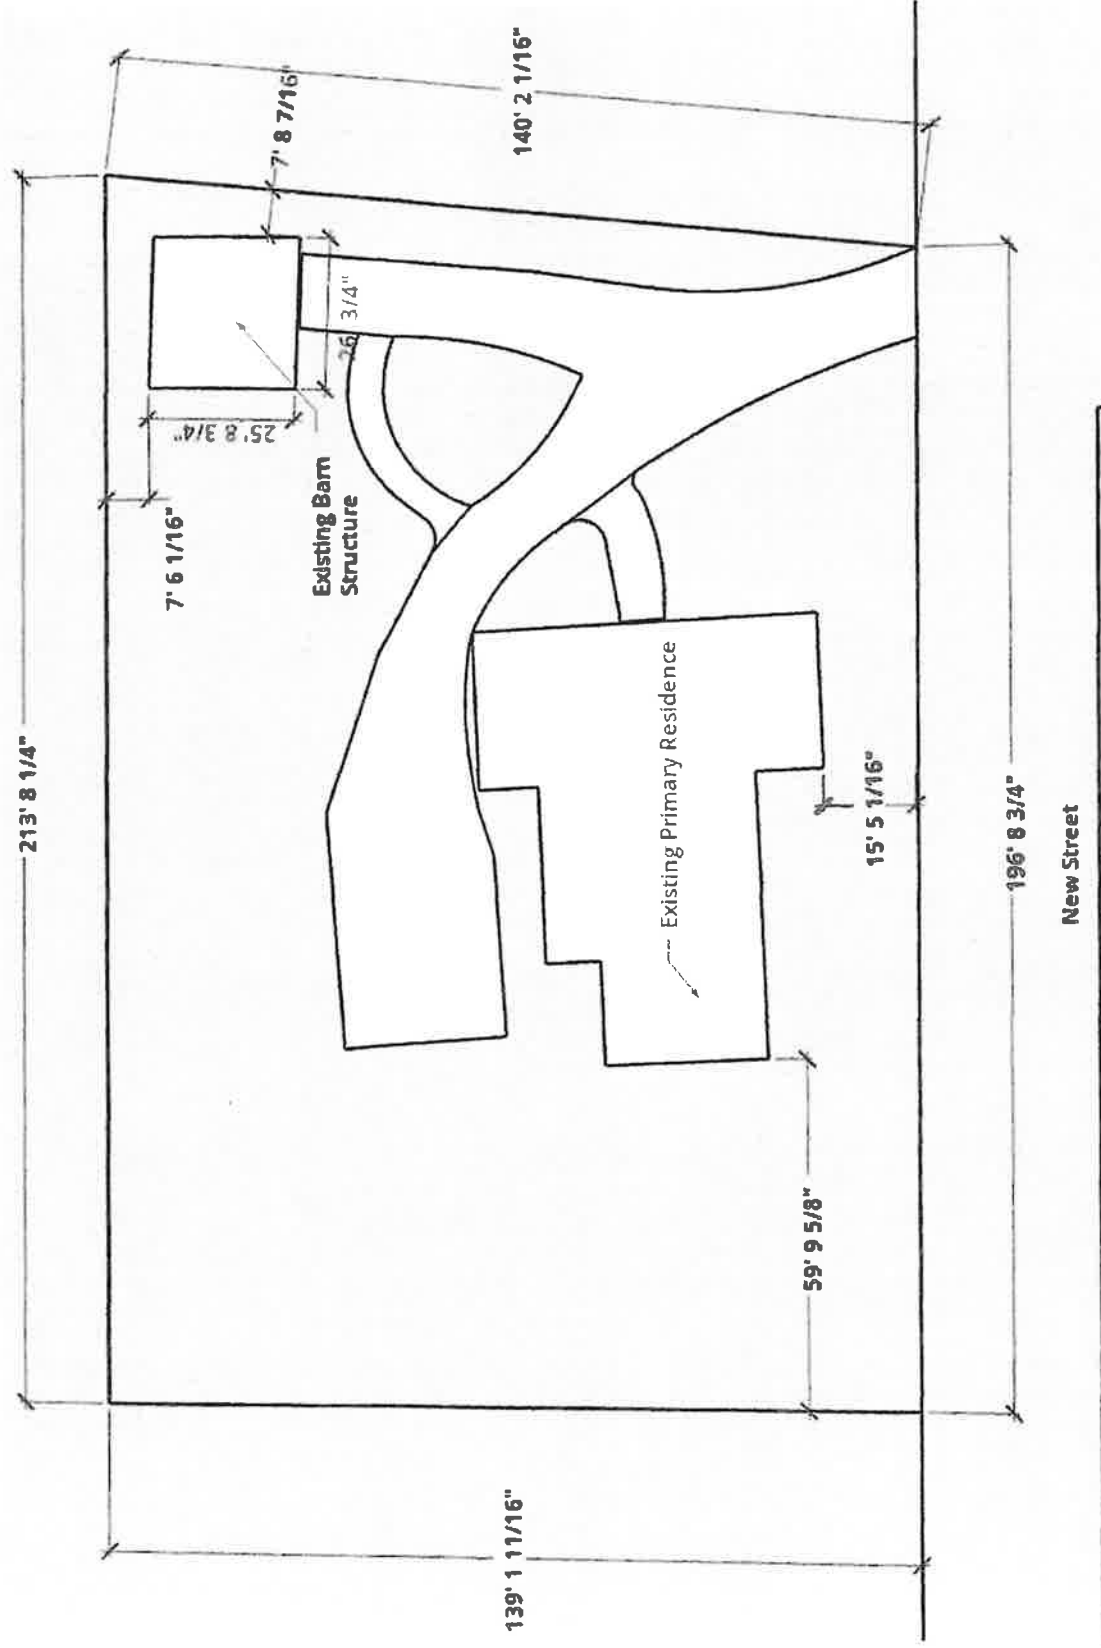

Gratefully,

Travis Martin

My neighbors, Travis and Heidi Martin, are seeking to convert their barn into an apartment for Travis's 80 year old father. At this time, the barn is used for storage for Travis's tile business. Customers do not visit - it's just storage for materials and tools. Travis will be moving his equipment to a storage unit once they are given permission to turn the building into an apartment.

I do understand there are some variances needed to make this happen. It is my hope that you will grant these variances and approve Mr. Martin's application so that he can live close to his family.

I live across the street from the Martins, and I believe they will make this apartment an attractive addition to our neighborhood. I see Travis's dad cutting their grass and doing other maintenance chores to keep their property looking nice. Also, this apartment will have no impact on our schools and very few additional car trips on our roads.

To Whom It May Concern:

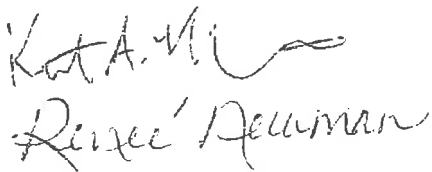

We are writing this letter in support of the requests submitted by Travis and Heidi Martin to convert their barn into an apartment for Travis' dad. We believe the improvements of this structure will benefit our neighborhood.

We have lived next door to the Martin's for more than 4 years. We are aware of Travis' occupation, but we have never once seen customers visit their property, nor is his occupation apparent by equipment or materials on the property. We have no concerns about the improved structure being maintained, as we have witnessed for years Travis' dad doing an exceptional job maintaining nearly all of the landscaping on the property for them.

In closing, the Martin's live in one of the oldest homes in our community. They have put a lot of heart and "sweat equity" in maintaining this historical home. We should all applaud and support them as they continue to invest in their property and make improvements and renovations into preserving it so that it will be a part of our community for years to come!

If you have any questions for us, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

To The City of Hoschton

This letter is in regards to Travis and Heidi Martin's request for variance and permits for their property at 165 New Street. We give our approval for The Martin's to convert their barn into a living space/apartment for Travis' father. We believe the changes he will make to the barn will improve the appearance of the property. The barn already gives character to the property and the Martin's house. Travis Martin does have his own business but to our knowledge we have never witnessed any clients or suppliers for his business at the property. We have witnessed Travis Martin's father (the proposed tenant) maintaining the landscaping for the family. They have a beautiful home and property and if allowed for Mr. Martin's father's move into the converted barn should not have any impact on traffic in this area. We fully support the Martin family in their decision.

Sincerely

Blake and Kim Wacaster

VARIANCE CRITERIA

Per Section 8.05 of the Hoschton Zoning Ordinance, One or more of the following criteria may be considered applicable or potentially applicable to decisions on variances. The applicant is urged to substantiate the request by responding to these criteria which provide reasons for approving the application:

- (a) There are extraordinary and exceptional conditions or practical difficulties pertaining to the particular piece of property in question because of its size, shape or topography that are not applicable to other lands or structures in the same district.

Response:

The original barn structure was built in 1991 so it's near proximity to the existing property line cannot be altered. The variance request is not to extend the structure closer to the property line. The footprint will remain as is.

- (b) A literal interpretation of the provisions of this ordinance would effectively deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed by other properties of the district in which the property is located.

Response:

The required setback cannot be met as the structure is already built. The variance is needed simply for remodeling & occupancy.

- (c) Granting the variance requested will not confer upon the property of the applicant any special privileges that are denied to other properties of the district in which the applicant's property is located.

Response:

Granting the variance will NOT confer special privileges.

- (d) The requested variance will be in harmony with the purpose and intent of this ordinance and will not be injurious to the neighborhood or to the general welfare.

Response:

The primary points within the stated Purpose of this ordinance that could be affected by this variance are the preservation property values, controlling the amounts of traffic and the promotion of responsible growth ensuring quality of life for residents. The remodel of this barn would greatly improve the appearance of the property. As a focal point of those traveling SW on E. Broad St toward New Street, it will greatly improve the aesthetics of the area by maintaining the time period decor of the primary residence. Only one car will be added to the property, though the future resident, my father, is here much of the time already. In addition to improving appearance of our property, and by extension the value of adjacent properties, my father will be a beloved addition to the citizenry of Hoschton and to the neighborhood. (See neighbor's letters.)

- (e) The special circumstances are not the result of the actions of the applicant.

Response:

The barn structure, as built, pre-existed our occupancy of the primary residence and therefore the home occupation as well.

- (f) The variance requested is the minimum variance that will make possible the proposed use of the land, building, or structure in the zoning district in which the development is located.

Response:

The structure is not being extended in any direction, so the variance is simply requesting approval of what is already existing.

RE: Variance application Letter of Intent

To whom it may concern:

This is a letter of intent for a variance application for an accessory apartment located at the above address. The apartment is to provide permanent housing for my father to age-in-place, maintain his independence and be in close proximity to his family. The future accessory apartment, in its entirety, is an existing structure. The footprint of the structure is not being altered. The exterior will be substantially similar to both its current appearance and the appearance of the primary residence on the property. The entrance and parking will be moved to the side and windows will be added, but apart from that, the exterior appearance will only be improved with new material. The following are the variances from the ordinance that are needed to proceed. The variances are needed because the conditions pre-existed our ownership of the property. We strongly desire the committee's and the council's approval.

6.05(2b) - "An accessory apartment shall not be permitted on the same lot as a home occupation." I have a home occupation, Charash Renovations. No customer or supplier visits the property. As you can read in the attached letters from our neighbors, the function of this home occupation is completely transparent to the neighborhood. I currently store tools and materials in the barn, but that will be moved to an off-site storage unit, thereby ensuring that the approval of an accessory apartment will not increase traffic or congestion or harm the residential feel of the neighborhood.

6.05(3) - "If detached from the principal dwelling, the accessory apartment shall be setback a minimum of 20 feet from any property line." The structure is existing. If we were building new, this variance would not be necessary, but we are only remodeling an existing structure. The allowed setback for the accessory apartment would need to be reduced to seven feet six inches on the south and east sides (see Site Plan), as this is simply where the structure currently sits.

6.05(5) - "The heated floor area for an accessory dwelling unit shall be at least 680 square feet". Since the structure is existing and will not be enlarged in any dimension, the variance requested for minimum square footage is down to 545 square feet, a 135 square foot reduction.

For my father's continued well-being, we sincerely request that the committee and council approve this variance. We thank you in advance for your consideration.

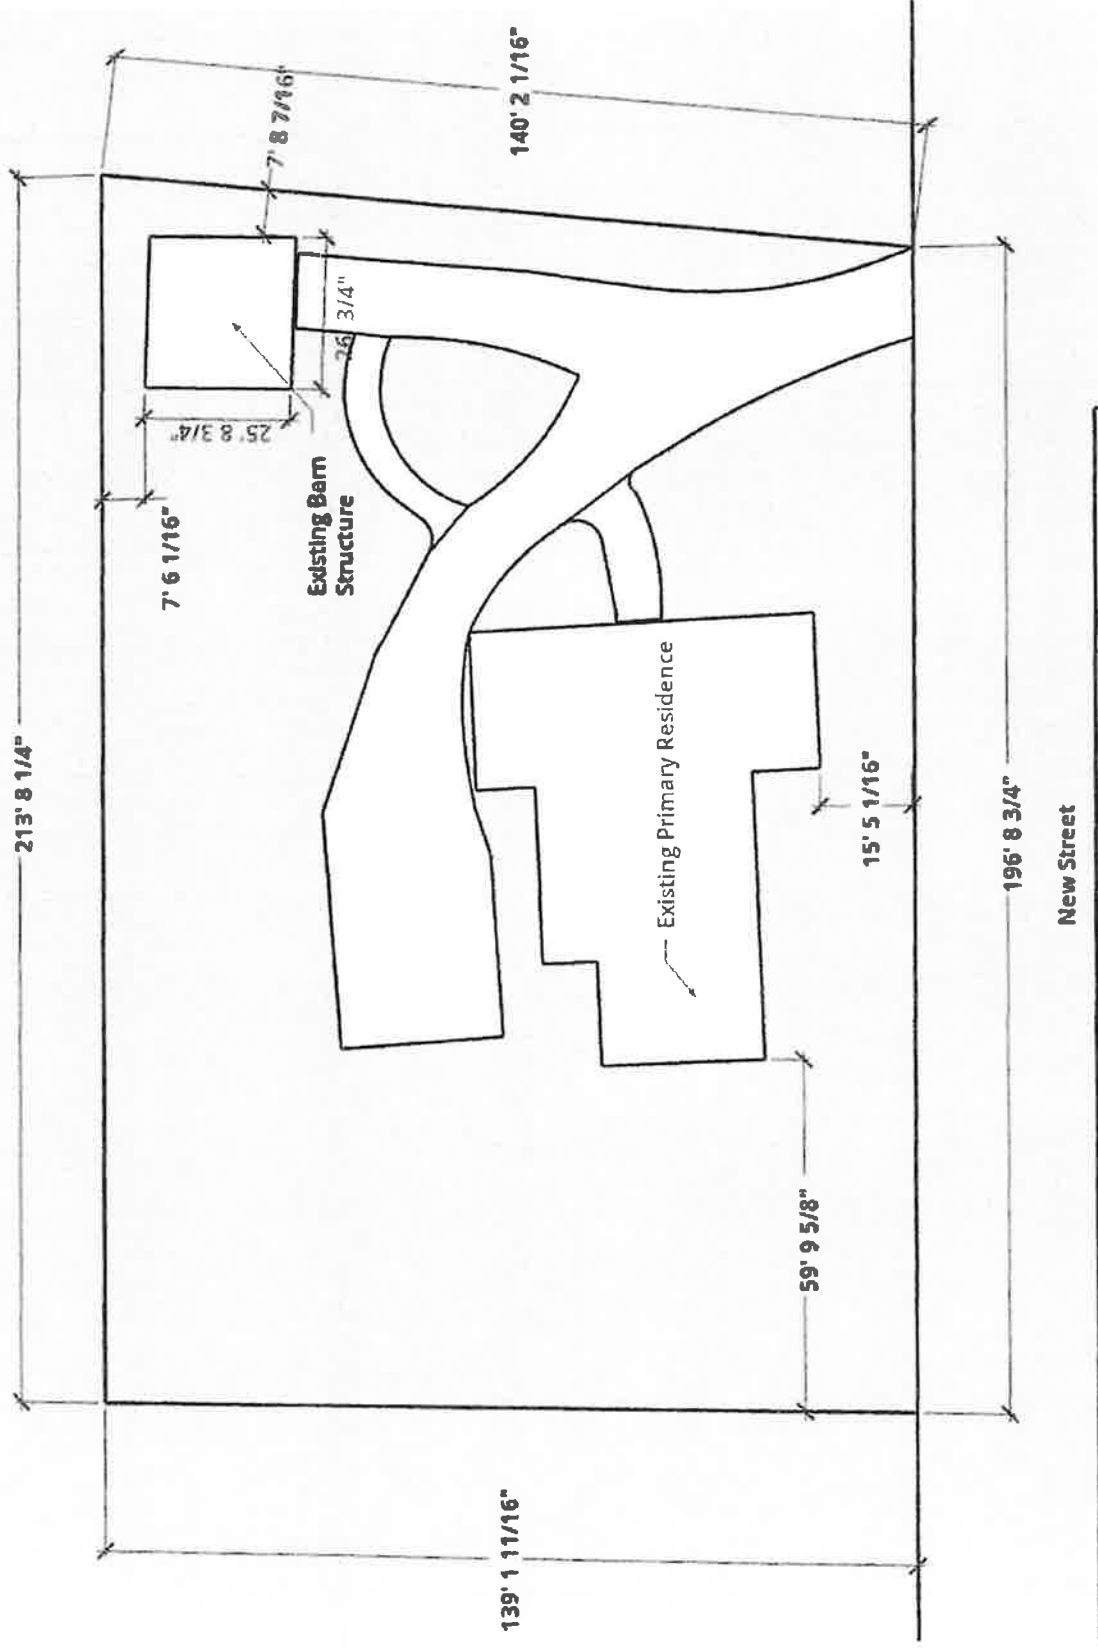

Gratefully,

Travis Martin
